Please remember to keep your scholars home if they are not feeling well, you can refer to additional information below.

Please also see information on the SEF Cinco de Mayo event, and the Spirit Wear Store for the PTO.

What's Happening at Eagle Heights

Scholars who won the Teacher Time Raffle with Sra. Seipmann made holiday decorations before winter break! Scholars participating were 4th graders Sophia Liu, Catalina Dávila, Natalie Weber, Kenzie Keddle, and 3rd graders Adler Varani, Caleb Hand, John Wieland and Elliana Osborn.

January Testing

During the month of January, our school will be participating in winter assessments in the library. These assessments are used to show how much progress scholars have made thus far, and to give teachers valuable information for planning for the remainder of the year. Parents of scholars who will be tested will receive information about the assessments at February conferences. Please remind all of your Eagle Heights scholars to be particularly kind and responsible this month to provide a quiet, supportive testing environment for their peers.

Staying Healthy

As we return from the holidays, please remember to monitor your scholars for illness and keep them home from school if the exhibit any of the following symptoms:

Intern Update

Read about how our interns spent their Winter Break!

What I liked the most about winter was seeing the snow for the first time and going sledding with my host family. Everything looked so pretty and dreamy. I also went to Hyland Hills and practiced snowboarding, it was so much fun. I've been trying to stay busy doing winter activities with my host family and friends. - Yeferson Rojas

During winter break, I went sledding with my host family. It was super fun. I also went skating with one of my buddy family's. It was a little difficult. I fell many times but, in the end, I was able to do it. I had a great time. Best of all, I had time to rest and learned how to make cookies. -

Andres Moran

Winter break was amazing and beautiful. Having the chance to spend Christmas in the United States has been an amazing and unforgettable experience. I also loved having time to rest and being able to create memories with my families.
- Guillermo Sandoval

"A sibling fills your life with joy, fills your days with smiles, walks under the shadow of your company, embraces your sorrows and wraps them in his heart." What I'm most excited to tell you about this winter break is my little trip to California. Being able to spend time with my sister was one of the most beautiful moments possible. I also enjoyed being able to observe Santa Monica beach with my niece in L.A.

Celebrating Christmas with my host family. The most incredible thing; being together, laughing, and sitting at the table made me think how lucky I am to be here in this great country. I was also able to celebrate and share part of my traditions which was one of the most adorable moments. I will remember with great joy that we celebrated a bit with stars (powder) and continued the tradition of grapes at midnight on Christmas Day. -Dalila Ayala

What I liked the most about the winter holidays was celebrating Christmas with 2 different families, it was a beautiful experience. I did some really fun things during this break, I went sledding with my host family and even went to a Minnesota Timberwolves game. They didn't win, but it was a lot of fun watching them play. Finally, I went ice skating at the community center. I thought that I was going to fall many times since it was my first time, but I did not and I am very proud of myself for that. - Juan Pablo

PTO News / Spirit Wear Orders

We would love to be able to keep our spirit wear website open more of the time, but we currently have one person filling orders and that person works when the school office is open, making it difficult to get into the office to fill orders. If you are interested in helping to fill orders at school so we can keep the store open more often, please email volunteer@ehsipto.org.
